Deafness Cannot Be Cured
By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, now. F. J. CHERNEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail. - Mrs. Curtis Baska, Bookwater, O. Four short stories, the beginning of one serial and the concluding chapters of another give the August Ladies' Home Journal claim to the title of mid-summer story number. There are besides upward of thirty other features: "College Girls' Larks and Pranks," "The Haunted Houses of New England," "My Summer With Some Chipmunks," "A Missionary in the Great West," by Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady, "How a Girl Can Work Her Way Through College," "Conversation and Good Form in Public Places," etc. Pictorially, the August Journal is made unusually sumptuous by the work of nine illustrators and by innumerable photographs. "Through Picturesque America" will command particular attention, and Howard Chandler Christy's "American Girl in Society" is another notable artistic feature. A waltz, "Golden Poppies," is attuned to the slumberous summer days and is exceedingly pretty. From cover to cover the August Journal is entertaining and attractive. By the Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. One dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

ASTONISHING PIECE OF HYPOCRISY.

The opening paragraph of the Democratic platform contains this statement, deliberately written with full knowledge of its utter falsity:

"The entire history of the Democratic party has demonstrated that it has always been the champion and defender of the rights of the great common people; that it has ever insisted that the will of the majority shall control and that the minority must cheerfully and willingly acquiesce therein. It has always advocated and still does that all elections shall be fairly conducted and the result honestly ascertained."

How does this lying declaration harmonize with Mr. Watterson's boast, "the Goebel Law leaves nothing to chance," or to the astounding confession of the Democratic leader, who publicly declared: "You can't out-count us, and you can't count us out?" How does this comport with the action of a Democratic Legislature in robbing the legally elected Governor of his office, who held his certificate of election from a Democratic Election Commission? "The will of the majority shall control." Taylor's majority was 2,383. But it was not binding on the lawless mob which disfranchised the people and unseated him. "The minority must cheerfully and willingly acquiesce." Was this course followed when the Democratic candidates for minor state offices, although beaten at the polls, accepted tainted titles from a partisan Democratic Election Board?

Do the political bosses believe that they can fool all the people all the time? Their mock pretense of submission to the law deceives no one. They did not have the common decency to openly indorse the repeal of the Goebel Election Law, but seek by misrepresentation to avoid responsibility for the crimes against civil liberty committed in its name.

MASON'S M. D.'S.
Their Meeting in This City Yesterday Not Well Attended.

The attendance at the County Medical Society yesterday was not what it should have been. Doctors should remember that the welfare of patient and practitioner is mutual, that the Doctor's opportunity of leisure may be the patient's best chance of recovery and, in all fairness, he should have benefit of it.

Dr. Ellis's essay on Tuberculosis was rich in statistics, comprehensive in medical topography and up to date as to causation of this fearful scourge. It gave evidence of much research and abounded in useful, practical suggestions.

This matter of Consumption, to put it plainly, is, by the way, claiming a large share of medical thought. Physicians differ as to prime factors in production and theorize freely over best means of possible cure; the profession is well nigh a unit, however, in belief in the preventing of this remorseless outlet to human life, on the part of individuals, and collectively as well.

True, 'tis a difficult proposition; for the chief danger lies, not with the isolated hopeless consumptive, imprisoned within the foul walls of a miserable home, possibly; his field of contagion is limited. For one such there are hundreds who, though as fatally stricken, are yet bread-winners, crowding offices, factories, work-shops, the streets and every known vehicle of transit, ejecting sputum which has a known capacity for contagion, of millions of microbes to the individual, within the average of working hours. You cannot restrain such; they must have fresh air or suffer, nay, they must earn bread or die! It is naught, as things are, that they sow the seeds of death to others in their honest struggle to live. Here it is that we find food for thought, work for the philosopher and humanitarian—a field for beneficence actually without limit.

The occasion was graced by Revs. Doctors Barbour and Molloy, who participated most agreeably and instructively in the running discussion of the interesting subject.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, August 23rd, Dr. T. E. Pickett, city, and Dr. Smith, Dover, essayists.
